

February 1, 2006

Gallery Project uses Solerio Decorative Pendant

Pathway's Solerio Pendants were used in a "decorative high bay" capacity in a gallery project. Each pendant was lamped with four triple tube lamps. Acrylic refractor provided uplighting to illuminate the open ceiling framework. Lower frosted acrylic disc diffused the downlight and added decorative flair.

Solerio pendants are available in 12" and 16" diameters and can accommodate compact fluorescent lamps (up to four per fixture) as well as metal halide and incandescent lamps.

